Ex-scoutmaster named in suit alleging lewd act

By L.A. MAXWELL

BARTOW — A Lakeland woman has filed a lawsuit against the Boy Scouts of America claiming her 15-year-old son was sexually molested by an assistant scoutmaster during a 1986 camping trip in Hernando County.

The lawsuit, filed June 6 by Sidney Parrish, a lawyer with the Orlando firm of Parrish and Bailey, also names the scoutmaster, Rodney Flatt. Flatt, 23, of Lakeland, is serving 3½ years in state prison on an unrelated charge of lewd assault on a child, court records show.

The victim was 12 and a member of a scouting troop in the Gulf Ridge Council when the incident occurred, the lawsuit states. Flatt, who was 19 at the time of the incident, was charged with lewd and lascivious acts upon a child following the incident. Hernando County court records show.

Flatt pleaded no contest Sept. 15, 1987, to a lesser charge of misdemeanor battery and was sentenced to one year's probation. He also was fined $100, and court records show he paid the fine and complied with the probation.

The lawsuit, which seeks compensatory and punitive damages in excess of $5,000, alleges the Boy Scouts of America and the Gulf Ridge Council, based in Tampa, are each negligent because each may deny the application of any individual who is "morally unfit to serve in the scouting program" or terminate any such person's affiliation with scouting.

The lawsuit also alleges that Flatt "committed acts of deliberate and intentional sexual battery" and caused the victim "severe physical pain and mental anguish."

Mark Griffin, executive director of the Gulf Ridge Council of the Boy Scouts of America, said Monday Flatt was a volunteer assistant scout master when he was 19. Following the camping trip to Hernando County and the accusations that he molested the boy, Flatt was removed from the Boy Scouts of America immediately, Griffin said, and his name was put on a nationwide list so he cannot ever register to work with scouts again.

Flatt in 1987 was sentenced to 10 year's probation after being charged with lewd assault on a child under 14 in Polk County. He was sentenced to 3½ years in prison after violating the terms of his probation, state Department of Correction records show. He began serving time in state prison on Jan. 12.

Lakeland suing the Boy Scouts

The Ledger

BARTOW — A Lakeland woman is suing the Boy Scouts of America on allegations that her 12-year-old son was sexually molested by an assistant scoutmaster during a 1986 camping trip.

The lawsuit, filed Friday in Polk Circuit Court by Orlando attorney Sidney Parrish, also names the 23-year-old scoutmaster, Rodney Flatt, who is serving a 3½-year prison term on an unrelated lewd assault charge.

The names of the mother and her now 16-year-old son are being withheld due to the nature of the allegations and the boy's age.

Mark Griffin, director of field service for the Tampa-based Gulf Ridge Council of the Boy Scouts, said Friday that he was not aware of the lawsuit and could not comment on the allegations. He did say, however, that assistant scoutmasters are volunteers and are not hired by the Boy Scouts of America.

The Gulf Ridge Council, of which the boy's troop was a member, also is named as a defendant in the lawsuit.

Flatt was arrested in October 1987 in Polk County on allegations that he sexually molested a child. He was sentenced in January 1988 to 10 years' probation, but violated that order and was resentenced in April 1989 to two years of community control, which is similar to house arrest, followed by five years' probation, court records show.

Last November, Flatt's community control was revoked and in January he was resentenced to 3½ years in state prison, according to court records.

Information was not available late Friday concerning the circumstances surrounding the probation violations.

The allegations in the lawsuit stem from an August 1986 Boy Scout camping trip to Hernando County.

According to Hernando County court records, Flatt was arrested on May 21, 1987, on a felony charge of lewd and lascivious acts. On Sept. 15, 1987, Flatt entered a guilty plea to a reduced charge of battery, which is a misdemeanor, and was sentenced to one year's probation and ordered by the court to seek mental health counseling.

Court records did not indicate whether he completed that counseling program.

Attorney Parrish said Friday that Flatt's Hernando County criminal record stemmed from the incident outlined in the lawsuit.

The lawsuit alleges that Flatt "committed acts of deliberate and intentional sexual battery and sexually violated and abused (the youth)."

The boy's mother is holding the Boy Scout organization responsible for not adequately screening and training its assistant scoutmasters, and for "failing to enforce rules prohibiting adult scout leaders from sleeping in tents with minor scouts."

The lawsuit alleges that the Boy Scout organization "had prior knowledge of numerous incidents of abuse of scouts by Assistant Scoutmaster and failed to take any measures or implement any policies, guidelines or procedures to protect the children placed into their care."

The Boy Scouts "continued to market their program as a desirable method 'to instill values in young people' when, in fact, numerous children were being sexually abused." And the organization "intentionally took steps to cover up the known sexual abuse in order to protect the continued marketing of the program for their own economic advantage," the lawsuit states.

The boy's mother is seeking unspecified damages in excess of $5,000 for her son's mental and emotional distress, as well as past and future medical expenses.

Dear Paul:

Enclosed is information related to the placing of Rodney G. Flatt on the Confidential File of the Boy Scouts of America. I'm also including copy of previously prepared information on this matter.

I believe that the statement from Detective Kerri Sherwood referring to the court appearance is sufficient regarding Rodney G. Flatt. He has subsequently not reregistered with Troop 746 and therefore we have not delivered the standard letter to him. However, this information should be helpful in protecting the B.S.A. in the future, in the event he should attempt to reregister.

I trust that this information will be sufficient.

Sincerely,

Thomas R. Deimler
